

Governor Is Challenged to Prove Charge

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Joe C. Hardin challenged Gov. Orval E. Faubus today to name the large donors to his (Faubus') campaign fund.

The challenge was Hardin's response to a Faubus statement that three of his opponents, including Hardin, are being financed by Washington interests.

Hardin said the remark should be "charged up to a growing list of irresponsible statements" by Faubus.

Faubus, speaking at a political rally at Humphrey last night, said funds that put Hardin, H. E. Williams of Walnut Ridge and Hal Millsap Jr. of Siloam Springs into the race "came out of the same money sack."

And there are occasionally some funds for my other opponent to help keep up his hatchet work," the governor said. He referred to Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett.

"Williams went to Washington before he decided to run," Faubus told a crowd of 400 at a political rally in Humphrey. "Hardin went to Washington and even announced his campaign from there. And Millsap has his messengers and go-betweens."

Faubus would not name the source of the funds, but promised to elaborate "as the campaign goes along."

Faubus was one of 20 candidates for state, county and local offices that mounted the platform on Humphrey's main street. Ellis Ramsey, campaign manager for Williams, was the only speaker concerned with the governor's race.

Ramsey said that, if elected, Williams would seek to promote economy in government, especially in the welfare department.

Speaking after Ramsey, Faubus commented "the administrative cost of the welfare program is the lowest in the nation. They'll have to pare it down pretty small if they're going to bring about more economy in government."

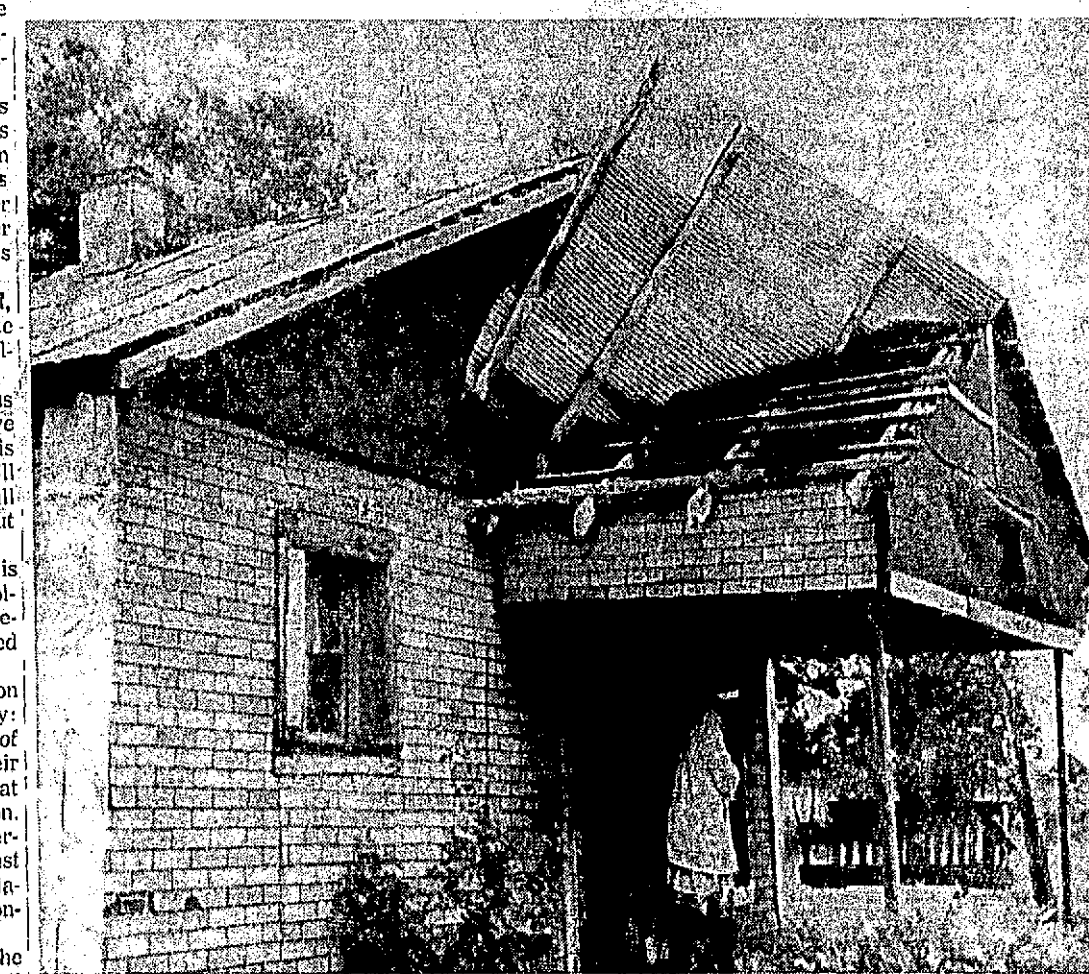

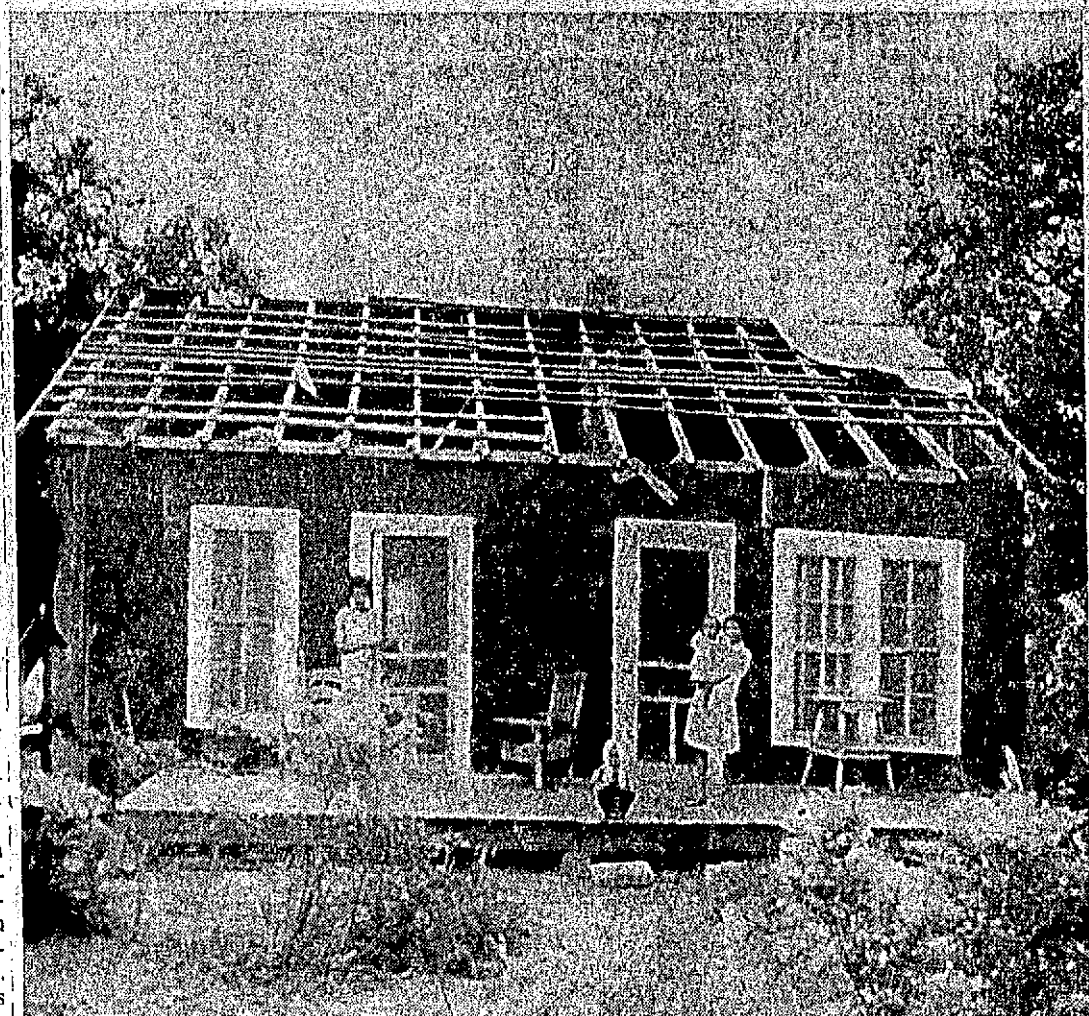

Ramsey said Williams, who is president of Southern Baptist College, opposes integration and "believes integration can be solved only in the local community."

Faubus injected the integration situation into his speech this way: "I fought to defend the right of the people to determine how their own schools shall be run. That was what brought me opposition. That's what caused those powerful voices to speak out against me. Will you accept the manipulation of those who could not control me?"

Speaking of his stand on the school crisis, he added, "I shall not relent from that stand one iota so long as I have my right mind and the strength to defend."

Tornadoes Rake Midwest Thursday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tornadoes raked the Midwest again Thursday night. One person died and 20 were injured when a big twister smashed through Meriden, Kan., a town of 400 about nine miles north of Topeka. Many rural homes and farm buildings were splintered.

The tornado which ran a 100-mile path from Meriden, Kan., to near the border of Missouri and Arkansas, continued on Page Three

A SHARP GUST OF WIND, DESCRIBED AS LOOKING "like a smoke ball" took the porch and roof off the home of Jake Cook, Negro resident of East Shover — in the Yeger School area — about 8:15 a. m. today and another nearby Negro home, E. D. Jackson's (middle photo) suffered damage as evidenced in the photo. Much tin from rooftops was scattered over a large area and the top of a large oak tree was snapped off and carried about a quarter of a mile. The trees around Hezue's Store on East Shover were snapped off as if cut with an axe. However, there was no reports of extensive damage to other houses in the area.

The largest slump of sales was in the Little Rock area, 11 per cent. Sales in seven smaller district cities were down 10 per cent. Louisville was 9 per cent below last year and St. Louis and Memphis were both down four per cent.

Sales for the year to date are one per cent below those of 1959.

Missile Streaks 9,000 Miles in 52 Minutes

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A U.S. Atlas missile streaked 9,000 miles in 52 minutes today in a record-smashing flight past the tip of Africa to a chosen target area in the southern Indian Ocean.

Satisfaction with the results was apparent in an Air Force announcement that first reports indicated "all test objectives were achieved."

The list of objectives included the 9,000-mile flight, far exceeding any previously recorded missile shot, and impact in a target area small enough to demonstrate the accuracy required for military effectiveness.

Plant Board Defends Pink Worm Fight

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Plant Board defended its pink bollworm control program yesterday against opposition from a member of the Legislative Council's Agriculture Committee.

The committee was considering a resolution by Little River Rep. Marion Crank asking a review of state policy toward control of the cotton pest Crank proposed finally that the program be abolished.

Floyd H. Fulkerson of Little Rock, Plant Board chairman, said Arkansas spends only $60,000 on bollworm control, much less than most states. Entomologists think Arkansas is getting a bargain for this investment, Fulkerson said.

L. F. Curl, an official of the U.S. Agriculture Department, described the Arkansas program as "middle of the road." "It is true that Arkansas has suffered no commercial damage from pink bollworms," Curl said. "The purpose of the program is to keep it that way."

William H. Wyatt of Blytheville, a director of the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation, defended the Plant Board against a Crank charge that some farmers had been discriminated against by unfair application of the board's pink bollworm regulations.

Wyatt explained that the board generally has held public hearings when it is considering a rule change. "We have faith that the board will continue to operate in this manner," he added.

Soviet Boss Promises No German Decision Until Summit Talks

Ike to Report Developments to the Nation

By MARVIN ARROWSMITH

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — President Eisenhower left for Washington today to report to the American people on the failure of his efforts to discuss peace with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The President flew homeward after a 24-hour visit to Lisbon on his way back from the disastrous summit conference in Paris.

Eisenhower, in a brief farewell speech at Portela Airport, said his talks with Portuguese President Américo Tavares and Premier Antonio Oliveira Salazar "have once again affirmed the spirit of friendship and good will that has always characterized the relations between Portugal and the United States."

"All of us," the President declared, "realize that we are united in a common cause and that each of us, in his own way, shares a part of the responsibility of striving for a peaceful and better world."

Washington greeted a rousing welcome for the President. Eisenhower is to report to the nation on television and radio, probably early next week about his unsuccessful efforts in Paris to sit down and talk things over with Khrushchev.

The summit conference never got under way because the President refused to kneel under to the Soviet Premier's demand that Eisenhower apologize for American spy flights over Soviet territory and punish those responsible.

A crowd of about 2,000 at Lisbon's Portela Airport cheered Eisenhower as he warmly shook hands with President Tavares.

At that moment an American in the crowd cried out, "I like Ike. God bless you Ike."

A smile lit up the President's face and he waved his gray hair. Then he climbed the stairs to his big jet plane, waved with his arms outstretched, and turned to enter the plane.

Premier Antonio Salazar, Portugal's dictator for the past 32 years, was not at the airport for the departure.

The president's visit to Portugal included two banquets, three receptions and a 90-minute talk with Salazar during which Eisenhower gave Salazar a report on the ill-fated Paris conference.

Members of the Retail Merchant Committee of Hope Chamber of Commerce announces the second annual employees picnic will be held Tuesday, June 7 at 6:30 p.m. at Fair Park.

Drug Official Quits Under Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal drug official whose income from outside sources reportedly dwarfed his government pay in recent years has resigned under fire.

Dr. Henry Welch, who had been the $17,500-a-year head of the Food and Drug Administration's antibiotics division, submitted his resignation Thursday "with reluctance." He denied any wrongdoing.

Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming had demanded the resignation.

Flemming acted shortly after the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee heard testimony that Welch had received $287,242.40 since 1953 in outside income. Most of the money came from the sale of reprints of scientific articles used to advertise and promote drug products.

Reveals Reds Intended to Ruin Meet

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan disclosed today that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev told him the day before the summit conference opened he would not negotiate unless the United States condemned its spy flights over Soviet territory, punished those responsible and agreed not to continue them.

Khrushchev repeated his demands formally at the conference opening the next day, bringing the summit meeting to a collapsing halt. But Macmillan's review in the House of Commons today was the first intimation that President Eisenhower, Macmillan and President Charles de Gaulle of France knew what they faced when they met with the Soviet Premier on Monday.

This presumably was one reason why Eisenhower and Khrushchev did not shake hands or speak personally at the start of the meeting.

Macmillan said it is still too early to say whether the collapse of the summit conference represents "an isolated episode" or "a deliberate change" in the Soviet policy.

"In either case we must be ready," Macmillan declared amid sympathetic cheers from all sides of the house.

In his first report to Parliament since returning from Paris, the Prime Minister said the breakdown of the summit talks confronts the world with a sterner situation carrying "grave implications, new threats and new dangers."

Of Eisenhower's announcement that reconnaissance flights over Soviet territory had been halted and his pledge that they would not be resumed, Macmillan said with considerable emphasis:

"I should perhaps say here that Mr. Khrushchev subsequently made some play with the fact that this assurance was limited to the President's own tenure of office."

"It was, however, made clear that this assurance was the most categorical and definite which any president of the United States could constitutionally give."

Macmillan was the first of the Western Big Three to give much of the inside story behind the collapse of the phantom summit party.

Junior-Senior Prescott Party 6:30 Tonight

Prescott's nationally known annual Junior-Senior all-night Premier party will start at 6:30 tonight (Friday). This year's theme will be "Under the Big Top."

The event will open with a banquet at 6:30 in the high school cafeteria, followed by dancing at the same place until 11. Then there will be a picture show at the Nevada theater at 11:45.

Concluding the events on the program will be breakfast at First Methodist Church at 2:30 a.m., followed by worship in the sanctuary.

During the annual Premier Party a street is roped off for the public part of the performance, and crowds jam the sidewalks to watch the show.

Cites Struggle for Power in U. S. Circles

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev promised today to preserve the status quo in Germany until another summit conference in six or eight months has a chance to settle the problem.

The Soviet Premier vowed to do nothing to "bring back the worst times of the cold war." But he said there was a hidden struggle among various U. S. circles, "which makes us fear serious developments."

"We believe," he told a frankly cheering East German audience, "that although reactionary powers blew up the summit conference in Paris, the next summit conference will take place in six to eight months."

"Under these circumstances it is sensible to wait a bit and try by common efforts of all the victorious powers to seek a solution of the question of the signature of a treaty of peace with the two German states which actually exist."

Khrushchev has said that if he is forced to sign a separate treaty with Communist East Germany, the Big Three's garlands will lose their rights to stay in Berlin.

"We do not let this subject of a treaty out of our sight," he said. "Let's wait a bit. It will ripen better."

Repeatedly he leveled his sights at President Eisenhower, whom he denounced in Paris in personal terms and blamed for the collapse of the summit conference.

"The question 2nd graf 171."

Alternate Senators Plan Not Binding

PIDGOTT, Ark. (AP)—Chancellor C. M. Buck ruled yesterday that agreements under which state senatorships are alternated among the various counties of a senatorial district have no legal sanction.

Several senatorial districts, including the 23rd, composed of Greene and Clay counties, had such an arrangement.

Buck ruled specifically the name of Sen. Mack West of Paragould should appear on the ballot in both Greene and Clay counties. Clay County officials had refused to qualify West as a candidate for recommendation on grounds of the agreement, whereby it was Clay County's turn to name the state senator.

Buck said the agreements are "illegal and without warrant of law."

"My opponents are taking up newspaper space to criticize me and not to offer constructive programs," he added. "The only relief they want is to relieve me of my office."

Faubus dedicated a $230,000 children's building at the State Hospital in Little Rock yesterday. He commented: "We are still building while my opponents are talking."

Williams said yesterday he has decided not to appear on an hour-long "meet the candidates" telecast in Little Rock May 27. Hardin had made a similar decision earlier.

Paul D. Henshaw of Jonesboro, a candidate for land commissioner, promised in a speech at the Humphrey rally that, if elected, he would end what he called inequities in the operation of the state land department. ## Demos Deny Intent to Mar Harmony

CHICAGO (AP) — Democratic party leaders heaped criticism Thursday night on the Republican administration's handling of the U2 spy flight incident preceding the summit conference breakdown, and of recent disclosures of Soviet and United States espionage activities.

But they denied intent to mar national concord in a time of world crisis.

Adlai Stevenson, twice unsuccessful Democratic presidential candidate, said successful negotiations with the Soviet is impossible with the GOP in power.

"There is no question about na-luck yet.

He paused, listening hard. Odd how noisy a nearly empty building could be. He entered a corridor, attained a stair and climbed on up to the third. He moved slowly. The hall was a tunnel of darkness, but memory served him. To his left would be the district judge's chambers, to his right the county attorney's office. At the end of the hall he came against a door. He fumbled for the knob and let himself into the courtroom.

He made out the railing that partitioned the seats of the spectators from the judge's bench, the tables for attorneys and their clients, the jury box.

The west end of the courtroom was directly over McQueen's quarters, but there was one story between them. He climbed the railing and moved to one of the long tables and pulled back a chair and seated himself.

He sat for a full minute, trying to people this room as it had been the last day he'd spent here.

First Samuel Acton, his court-appointed attorney. Acton, his whiskey breath poorly disguised by bit with a thousand empty bottles. And now Granville Cross, the county attorney, thin and sharp as a rapier, was at the next table. And the sheriff and the other officials and the horde of spectators who had heard the verdict of two days earlier and returned to hear the sentencing.

And up there on the bench, Judge Rance, pompous and self-righteous and given to longwinded speeches.

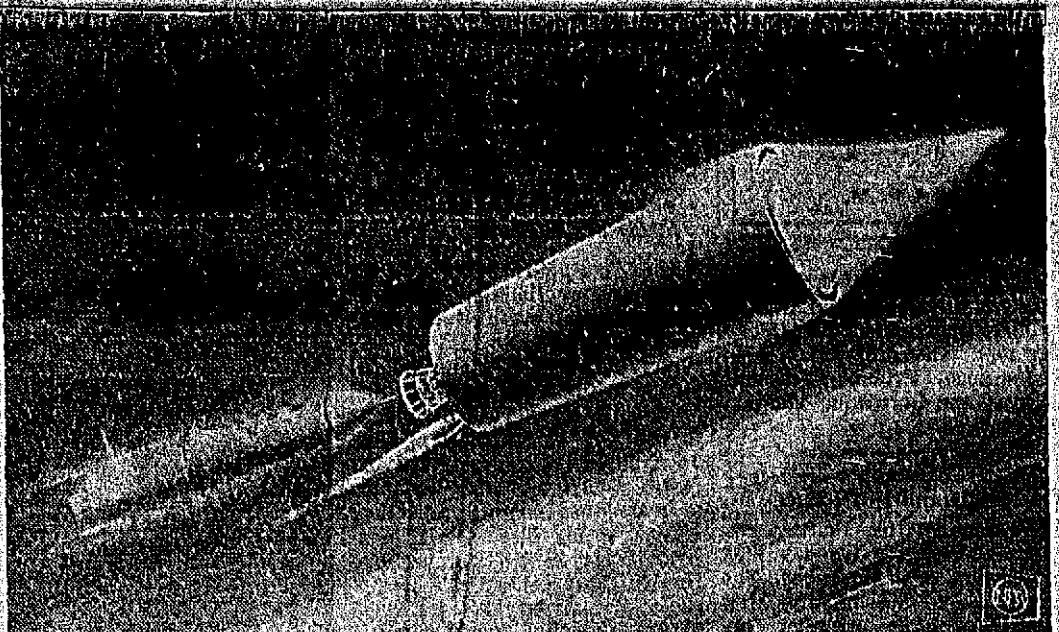

"Riley Buckner, you have been found guilty of grand larceny by a jury of your peers, with the nature of your punishment left to my discretion. The sentence I shall pronounce has been determined in accordance with the jury's recommendation that some leniency be shown. In my opinion, however, there is a greater offense of which you are guilty, and it is not punishable by law. I refer to the offense of ingratitude."

He stood straighter as he had that other time.

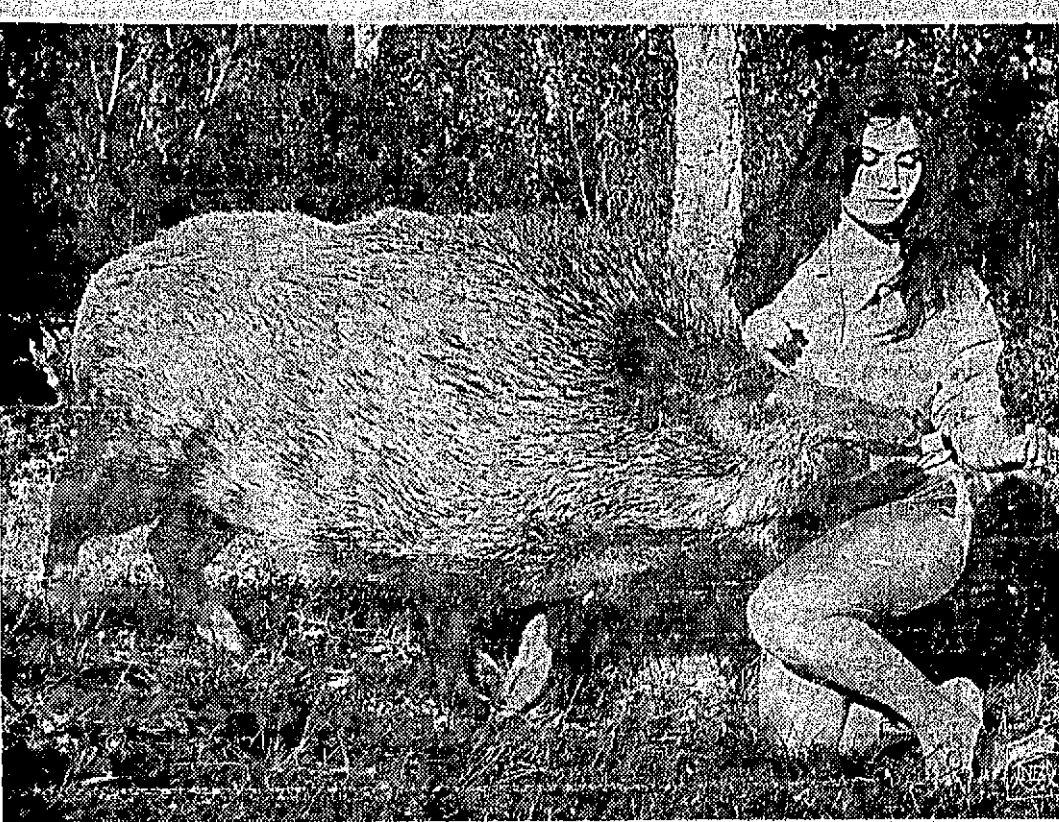

"You came among us as a boy of five in 1870, brought here by your father, a professional gambler, who died five years later in a shooting affray involving an accusation that he cheated. You seem never to have known your mother and therefore had none of the softening influence that her love might have brought you. It appears that thereafter you were a ward of the town, splitting wood and performing other chores for a meal or a night's lodging from your tenth year to your eighteenth. During that period, you were a boyhood friend of Duke Jordan, who eventually persuaded his father to hire you as a rider on his Boxed J ranch."

"One month ago you and Duke Jordan and other Boxed J riders were sent to deliver a herd of cattle over the mountains to Jupiter City. Once delivery was made and the cattle sold, the other riders returned to the home ranch. You and Duke Jordan, however, remained in Jupiter for several days and were seen roistering in various saloons and gambling establishments. Duke agrees that you urged that both of you return home, and he further testified that he sent you on with a carpetbag containing the herd money while he tarried among the fleshpots."

SERVICE STATION IN SPACE—When a vehicle runs out of gas on the Milky Way, bud, it's the end of the ninth. Up until this idea came along, the filling station was way back on earth. The large vehicle shown in drawing above could change this by acting as a filling station in orbit. Spacehips operating on liquid oxygen would drop in, couple up and take on new fuel. This would enable them to take on from earth with heavier payloads. Called PROFAC (Propulsive Fluid Accumulator), the orbiting filling station would gather thin air at the top of the atmosphere, change it to a liquid and store it. As designed by Northrop Aircraft Corp., it would be 120 feet long and weigh 75,000 to 125,000 pounds.

tional unity in time of crisis," he said. But "it is the duty of responsible opposition in a democracy to expose and criticize carelessness and mistakes."

Stevenson's remarks spiced a $100 a plate dinner for Cook County (Chicago) Democrats.

The former Illinois governor said:

"We sent an espionage plane deep into the Soviet Union just before the summit meeting. Then we denied it. Then we admitted it. And when Mr. Khrushchev gave the President an out by suggesting that he was not responsible, the President proudly asserted that he was responsible."

"On top of that we intimated that such flights over Russia would continue. At this point if Khrushchev did not protest he would be condoning our right to spy—and how long could he keep his job that way?"

One Republican agreed in part with Democratic accusations.

Sen. Thurston Morton (R-Ky.) told newsmen in Indianapolis that he wasn't happy with the initial handling of the spy plane incident. The Republican national chairman said mistakes were made in the government's early announcements of the situation.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, in Indianapolis to attend a dinner, ended forecasts of the nation's defenses in view of the tense post summit international climate.

However, Johnson avoided direct criticism of Republican-directed diplomacy.

Two Put to Death for Hamm Slaying

TUCKER PRISON, FARM, ARK.

(AP) — Two Negro men, shook hands with their death row call, and went calmly to the electric chair today for their roles in the 1956 slaying of a white man.

James Boyd, 21, who waved at witnesses as he was strapped into the chair, died first at 6:56 a.m. Willie Henry Byrd, 29, was pronounced dead at 6:57.

Asst. Prison Supt. Jim Bruton said both men had a restless night. They passed up the traditional last meal last night but ate fried chicken, soft drinks and candy provided yesterday afternoon by two Negro women.

Boyd and Byrd and two other Negro men who were executed last week were convicted in the May, 1956, robbery-slaying near Texarkana of M. R. Hamm, a 76-year-old white welfare recipient. The robbery netted them less than $11. James Moore, 21, and Rogers Boone, 27, died in the chair last week.

The four had numerous stays of executions until all legal questions were settled. The Arkansas Supreme Court reversed death penalties assessed when they were tried together and ordered separate trials. The new convictions were upheld by both state and federal appeals courts.

The Rev. Joseph Gallagher of Pine Bluff, a Catholic priest, prayed with Boyd through the night, and the Rev. A. W. Miller of Stuttgart comforted Byrd a pro-secutor.

Bruton said the condemned men had no last words except for the request to be permitted to shake hands with their death row cellmates.

Byrd got the first of three jolts of electricity at 5:51, the second at 5:53 and the third at 5:56. Boyd required only two shocks the first at 6:03 and the second at 6:06.

Khrushchev News Cast Boreome

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC and CBS bored this viewer stiff by putting on unedited versions of the talk to a correspondent in the tribe Wednesday night through the wee hours Thursday.

Meanwhile, small and bright ABC wrapped up the whole thing in 45 minutes, ending neatly at midnight.

Actually, K's press conference was not such an incredibly long affair at all — it consisted of a statement and about 10 questions. What took up the time was the French and then the English translations. But why both NBC and CBS felt it necessary to air these interminable periods is hard to understand.

ABC, which like the other two networks, had the tapes in hand here by 10 p.m., merely chopped out the wearisome translations and then had Nicholas Orloff, a skilled translator, interpret as the Soviet leader went along. His voice, from New York, was heard over the soundtrack of the Paris-made tape.

At NBC, particularly, the commentators seemed absolutely overwhelmed by events. The network, knocking off the Jack Paar show, first put on a special broadcast by John Chancellor, during which he talked to a correspondent in Berlin who was repeating things which had been heard and re-heard on the early evening telecasts. Then it put Frank McGee on — and he repeated everything Chancellor had said immediately before him. Finally he started the tape, which then ran without interruption for two hours and 20 minutes.

Maybe endless late-night non-entertainment shows are the new TV trend. After all it was just Sunday night we had Vice President Richard M. Nixon for almost four hours. It's getting hard to find sleeping time these hectic days, although I did do some napping through both Mr. N. and Mr. K.

Recommended tonight: Jerry Lewis Show, NBC, 8:30-9:30 Eastern Daylight Time.

DOROTHY DIX

Sons are Credit to Sailor Father

Dear Dorothy Dix:

What is your opinion of teaching boys social niceties?

We have three children, two boys, ages 20 and 17, and a girl 15. I encourage the boys to treat girls with respect, to open car doors for their dates, help them off and on with their wraps, walk on the outside when walking with a girl, and so on.

They buy corsages for their dates when special occasions call for flowers and, if a formal school dance, wear white sport coats. My husband says these things are not necessary to a boy's education. If we could not afford them or if my husband were a great deal older than his boys, I could understand, but he is only 33 and a Navy man.

The boys paid for the corsages and formal clothes when possible but there have been times when they couldn't get extra jobs. The elder boy is working his way through the University of Maine, an above average student, and has never asked us for financial help. The younger boy does the dinner dishes with the help of his sister, makes his bed and washes the family car. He will do most anything to earn his spending money, even baby-sitting. Am I — as my husband says — spoiling our sons? I would appreciate an outsider's opinion.

—A Wondering Mother

Democrats Undecided on Chairman

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Democrats usually "in the know" professed to know nothing today about who will be permanent chairman of the 1960 Democratic National Convention.

But they predicted that the assignment of delivering the keynote address at the convention opening in Los Angeles July 11 would go to one of three state governors.

As likely choices, they named Gaylord A. Nelson of Wisconsin, Leroy Collins of Florida and Stephen L. R. McNichols of Colorado. Of those three, they gave Nelson the edge.

The speculation on the chairmanship varied and included such possibilities as Reps. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania and Richard Bolling of Missouri and Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee.

Selections for the two major convention posts will be made by a 14-member arrangements committee meeting next Tuesday in New York and headed by Paul Butler, chairman of the national committee.

Traditionally, but not invariably, the convention chairmanship meets Tuesday in the rules of the House of Representatives, under which the con-

And how will the boys feel about dating an older girl? — L.

Dear L.: If the boys ask your age, tell them, but don't make an issue of it. Age is more psychological than physiological. My Aunt Molly was giddy as a girl at 79; her daughter Agnes as sedate as the Bank of England at birth. My mother, widowed early, went with younger men all her life. I am attracted to those older than myself. A few years difference, this way or that, matters little, save when in one's teens. Go out with the boys. Have fun!

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I am 13 and in grade 8. There is a girl who rides in the school bus and is in my class. She is poor. Her clothes are dirty; so is her face. Though quite nice, she gives me a lot of trouble. I go steady with the boy next door. He is in grade 9. Since my parents know him, they don't mind.

This girl tells my boy friend I am mad at him, then tells me that he is mad at me. I overheard her tell another girl that she would get him yet. She told my girl friend that she could give my boy friend what boys really want.

My boy friend and I grew up together. Now that we are older we go to the school dances, the young people's together. We are like sister and brother. How am I going to tell this girl to leave us alone. Please print your answer in the paper. — D.

Dear D.: The less attention you pay to this girl's silly gossip the sooner she will be out of your hair. We've all got to learn to take troublemakers in our stride. They are more to be pitied than censured. A spiteful tongue means a love-starved, unhappy human being. If there is one thing that devastates a gossip-monger, it is indifference. Ignore that girl. Go your own sweet way.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

Pirates Make Bats Overcome Weak Hurling

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates, over coming their pitching with their bats, have battled back for a half-game lead in the National League race as they open a three-game series with San Francisco's second-place Giants tonight.

The Pirates, lacking a sturdy No. 3 and 4 pitcher behind ace Vern Law and Bob Friend, rapped 13 hits, picked up four unearned runs and whipped St. Louis 8-3 Thursday night. That broke a tie for first with the Giants, who were rained out at Milwaukee.

Cincinnati skipped past Milwaukee into third place, four games back, with a pair of two-out, ninth-inning runs that beat Los Angeles 5-4. Chicago's Cubs defeated Philadelphia 4 to 2 and jumped over St. Louis into sixth place.

In the American League, Kansas City scored five runs in the eighth and beat Baltimore 7-4. That dropped the second-place Orioles a full game behind Chicago's White Sox, whose game with Boston was rained out. No other games were scheduled.

Southpaw rookie Joe Gibbon (3-1) won his first as a starter for the Pirates, but needed Fred Green's relief help to do it.

The Blues, topping the NL with a .283 batting average, bagged all their runs before the Cards got started. Hal Smith knocked in three, two with a second-inning homer off loser Ray Sadecki, a 19-year-old lefty making his major league debut.

Cincinnati clipped the Dodgers 5-4 to rthe second night in a row and now has a 4-0 season edge on the world champions. Vada Pinson's triple capped the winning ninth after Elto Chacon got it started with a bunt that stayed fair when Dodger third baseman Jim Gilliam let it roll. Chacon stole second and scored on Eddie Moko's single. Jim Brosnan (1-0) won it, pairing with Joe Nuxhall for a four-inning, one-hit shutout job in relief of starter Cal McLish.

Loser Sandy Koufax (0-4) went all the way for the Dodgers, blowing a 4-0 lead after piling up eight of his 10 strikeouts in 4 1-3 innings.

The Cubs broke a 2-2 tie at Philadelphia in the seventh when ex Phil Richie Ashburn tripled and scored on Bob Will's foul fly to rookie right fielder Ken Walters. Bob Anderson (1-1) won it with a five-hitter and his first complete game of the season. Robin Roberts (1-4) lost it.

Soviets Push for Probe of Spy Plane

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko flies to New York today in pursuit of a U. N. prohibition against American spy flights that will be binding after President Eisenhower leaves the White House.

In a telegram to the U. N. Security Council Thursday night, Gromyko brushed aside Eisenhower's statement in Paris that U. S. flights over Soviet territory had been halted and would not be resumed.

Gromyko said Eisenhower could not promise aerial spying would not resume.

He said they would be turned over to California authorities.

Hurst told newsmen he had a long criminal record, but that he intended to "go straight" after he got out of jail this time.

Hurst is wanted in California as a parole violator and both are wanted in Los Angeles on check charges.

He said they would be turned over to California authorities.

The Security Council meets Monday afternoon to take up the Soviet charge of U. S. aggression based on the U2 reconnaissance plane which the Soviets brought down on Soviet territory on May Day. Gromyko was due in New York tonight from Paris to represent the Soviets in the council debate.

The council meeting was shap up as another Big Four foreign ministers' debate. British sources said Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd was expected to represent his government.

The French said if Lloyd came, Foreign Secretary Maurice Couve de Murville probably would attend. So, presumably, would U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, although the U. S. delegation Thursday night said it did not yet know his plans.

Asked for comment on Gromyko's new charge, a U. S. delegation spokesman referred to an earlier statement by the chief U. S. delegate, Henry Cabot Lodge, that the United States will meet all Soviet charges head on in the council.

Lodge, in Washington to confer with Eisenhower and Herter after their return today, said he thought the United States would be able to prove that the Soviet charge of aggression was "fabricated, and will be able to do so to the satisfaction of any impartial observer."

Copter Fails to Rescue 5 Climbers

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—A jet helicopter headed thrashed toward the high reaches of Mt. McKinley today in another desperate attempt to rescue a sick woman and four injured men.

The craft took off from a 19,000-foot level base camp in perfect weather, a radioed message said.

The helicopter failed twice Thursday to pluck the five climbers from their perch high on the side of 20,320-foot Mt. McKinley, North America's tallest.

Meantime, a team of rescuers on foot inched up the tortuous face of the massive mountain as concern for the injured climbers mounted. The climb could take three days. Temperatures on the mountain Thursday night reached 15 degrees below zero.

Rescuers included 47 members of Seattle Mountain Rescue Council, shuttled by helicopter to a 10,000-foot high camp after flying 1,300 miles.

With the disabled climbers were four well and uninjured men, including a doctor. The sick woman's husband urged them to come out by helicopter if possible.

"Think of your wives and families," Peter Bading of Anchorage said.

But one of the climbers, Paul Crews, indicated they would try another ascent instead.

"If we're in good shape," he radioed back, "we'll try the North Peak."

Crews carries a small transmitting radio with him as all mountaineers are urged to by rescue officials.

Tragedy struck after the climbers sealed the continent's highest peak Tuesday in two separate parties. Five mountaineers from Anchorage reached the summit first and started down a wealthy Oregon rancher, John Day, and three Seattle men made it a bit later.

On the way down the party from the Pacific Northwest lost footing and left the Mackons snow field and tumbled back up. Help Bading became ill from the altitude and could not continue.

Crews, joined with Mr. Bading at the 16,000-foot level. Dr. Robert Wilson, a physician, and others in the Anchorage party reached the injured men about 2,000 feet farther up.

Wilson said the four were "in very poor condition and need help immediately." Crews said a "ground party" might be to take

Hot Springs Golf Meet Draws 52

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

FIFTY-two golfers took part in the first round scores into the second stanza of the Hot Springs Open golf tournament today. Five of the 52 golfers were rookies. Gene Litter and Bob Nichols led the field of 131 with 5-under-par 67s in first round play yesterday.

Litter, the defending champion from Slingshot Hills, Calif., flicked 30 putts over 18 wet greens yesterday in taping up his 34-33-67. He tied the tournament record of 270 last year in beating Jim Perree of Crystal River, Fla., by one stroke.

Nichols, from Midland, Tex., is a newcomer to the Professional Golfers Assn. tour. He has found Arkansas golf to his liking, however, having won the Southwest Conference championship in 1958 at Fayetteville while competing for Texas A&M.

He shot a 32-35-67 yesterday. Geiberger, the leading rookie on the PGA tour with $4,000 and a fourth-place finish in the San Diego Open to his credit, shot a 36-31-67. He tied the course record of 31 (five under par) for the back nine. Geiberger is a University of Southern California student from Studio City, Calif.

Litter played the steadiest game of the three leaders. He birdied five holes and played every one in par or under. His drives were solid and straight and his putting was little short of amazing, considering the condition of the greens after an all-night rain.

Five golfers tied for fourth place at 68, four under par. They were Pete Barker of Hot Springs, Bill Collins of Crystal River, Fla., Don January of Dallas, Stan Leonard of Vancouver, B.C., and Bruce Crampton of Sidney, Australia.

Ten tied at 69—three under par. Seven had 70—two under par, and 17 shot 71s. Ten fired par 72s.

Eighteen holes per day are carded through Sunday to round out the 72-hole medal play event. The tournament is being played on the 7,011-yard Hot Springs Country Club course.

Friday Night Fights Will End Tonight

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Since the days of Tex Rickard, Friday night has been fight night at Madison Square Garden. Tonight the series ends.

The Friday network (NBC) radio and television series will continue through June 24 in other arenas. They will originate in Las Vegas, Boston and St. Nicholas Arena in New York. But this is the last of the Friday fights in the Garden.

When the fights resume on a regular basis in October, the TV series will be moved to Saturday night on a different network (ABC). In between, there may be a couple of fight shows in the Garden off TV on Monday or Tuesday nights.

The Garden finale is a heavy-weight fight between Eddie Machen, the No. 4 contender, and Alex Miteff, who is rated No. 6 by Ring and No. 7 by the National Boxing Assn. The 10-round match will start at 9 p.m. as usual, there will be two judges, and a referee scoring by rounds, using a stipulatory point system under New York rules.

Machen was sailing along unbeaten in 25 fights, until he ran into Ingemar Johansson's right hand in Göteborg, Sweden, Sept. 14, 1958. As a result of that first round knockout, Johansson vaulted into a title fight with Floyd Patterson last June and Machen had to start all over again. Machen won seven last year, lost to Zora Foley Jan. 18 and stopped Billy Hunter in nine rounds Feb. 26 in his last outing. His record is 32-2-1.

Miteff, from Argentina, has a 22-5-1 record. However, he has been stopped three times by Mike DeJohn, Willie Beamanoff and Hunter.

Bible Comment

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

I wrote recently of the tragedy that religion, which in its name and nature ought to be a great binding and uniting force, actually has been a great occasion of division and strife.

The saddest aspect of the tragedy has been the divisiveness within the Christian religion.

I do not mean the divisions into Roman Catholic, Greek Orthodox, and Protestant, which have their historic aspects and their conflicts of doctrine and authority.

As a Protestant I am more concerned with the divisive spirit within Protestantism, especially with the bitterness and vituperation with which controversies and antagonisms are expressed.

The intensity of this is not unusual in the groups or sects dominated by convictions and attitudes that mark them as apart from the predominantly "orthodox."

In the more "orthodox" denominational groups the conflict is between those classed as "fundamentalist" and "liberal," and many who are simply orthodox, without any close relation to either group.

It would be a great mistake to consider all fundamentalists or ultraconservatives as either bitter or divisive in their attitude toward others.

During the years when I was editing the liberal "Congregationalist," I frequently had letters from conservative readers who strongly differed with me, yet their letters were in the kindest Christian spirit.

I remember particularly one saintly reader, who I think regarded me in much the same spirit as a loving mother might regard a mistaken or wayward son. I felt a deep sense of sympathy and fellowship with her.

Others were neither so kindly nor so Christian.

It is notable that a critical letter, sneering and contemptuous in spirit, often was in its spelling and misstatement of fact as much evidence of ignorance as of ill will.

I believe that essential ignorance of the humanities and of the finer aspects of human relationships underlies the worst phases of controversy. This I believe true even of theologians and doctors of divinity who carry impressive titles and academic insignia.

When I was a Congregational minister in Hamilton, Ont., and a marked liberal in the community, the outstanding fundamentalist was Pastor Philpot. I had respect for a man and his faith which had built up a large Harold Eakley, local plant manager of Hope Wire Products, Inc., moved to Hope two years ago when the plant started operations here. Mr. Eakley is a member of the Methodist Church and Kiwanis Club and lives at 100 East 16th St. with his wife and three children.

The advanced design of Holland Maid innerspring units results in different methods of manufacture than used in making ordinary spring units for mattresses. As a result, only two other plants in the United States make units in the same way, as Hope Wire Products, Inc.

Most of the machinery used in making units was designed and built by the company. The local plant will be in full operation throughout the Open House, Tuesday May 24, 12:30 to 8 p.m. All local area persons will be welcome to see the manufacturing process then.

I suggested an annual exchange of pulpits to which the pastor agreed. I confined myself in my sermon to our common ground.

I believe the exchange would have continued indefinitely as far as Mr. Philpot was concerned, but members of his congregation objected and the exchange fell through.

When Pastor Philpot came to the Moody Church in Chicago, I addressed an editorial open letter to him, recalling our former association and urging him to unite with me in seeking to establish closer friendly Christian relationships.

I believe that Mr. Philpot would have responded favorably, but fundamentalist influence were too strong, and nothing came of it.

Some professing Christians are so sure they are right they just don't want to have anything to do with those who in any way differ from them.

What a strange place heaven will be if they ever get there. Perhaps I'm the one who won't be there.
